Hromadske International brings together high-quality journalism, new media tools and objective analysis in one place. Hromadske is a vibrant start-up, founded by a unique team of Ukrainian and foreign journalists. With the launch of Hromadske International in 2014, the network now broadcasts in Ukrainian, English and Russian.

ABOUT US

Hromadske is here to fill the huge gap we've spotted in Ukrainian and Eastern European news. Rather than countering the mounting mistruths about Ukraine and Eastern Europe, we're here to show what's happening now, and to provide crucial insights into the situation.

The Hromadske Network prides itself on its impartiality. Hromadske is run as an NGO “Public Television” (Hromadske TV in Ukrainian). Journalists founded and run the organisation, and the funding comes from non-profit organisations. Launched on the eve of some of the most tumultuous days in the country’s history, Hromadske became the go-to medium for Ukrainians — the place to discover and make sense of what was happening in the country and the region.

Hromadske revolutionised the digital media landscape in Ukraine, and is the first news medium to successfully target young audiences. It has gained their trust by doing remarkable things within an incredibly tight budget.
